[illegible] SAY [redacted] was ill and did not come to work. She was absent beginning February 7, 1958, and returned to the office on February [illegible], 1958, and resigned. [redacted] said that during the week she was allegedly ill he learned that she had applied for a job at the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Company. Her excuse for resigning was that she did not like bank work.

[redacted] supplied a record of teller's differences from January 1, 1957. He said that her shortages were over the average for tellers.

[illegible], Vice-President and Auditor, [illegible] advised that after the checks drawn on the [redacted] account disappeared from the files of the [redacted] office each $200.00 item was traced on [illegible]. He advised that the checks in question that disappeared from the files of the bank were as follows: b6 b7C

August 29, 1957	$200.00
September [illegible], 1957	$100.00
October 11, 1957	$100.00
October 22, 1957	$200.00
November 7, 1957	$200.00

b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that his staff traced each $200.00 item both pay outs and checks received through clearings and correspondent banks as well as deposits on August 29, 1957, October 22, 1957, and November 7, 1957. He said that on each of these days every $200.00 check and withdrawal had been accounted for and that it had been determined that the $200.00 checks against the [redacted] account had been handled by SAILES. He advised that the $100.00 items on September 16, 1957, and October 11, 1957, were too numerous to trace. He furnished the results of the tracing of the $200.00 items mentioned above. He said the tracing of the items did not include interview of any of the makers of the checks or correspondence with correspondent banks from which such checks were received. He advised that the [redacted] office does not photograph any checks drawn on that office. He said there were no photographs of the checks drawn against the [redacted] account. He stated that the [redacted] Office has open tellers' cages, [redacted] while working as a teller, would have access to the files containing cancelled checks. He said a complete verification of checking and savings accounts was made during the audit and there were no shortages other than reported. [redacted] advised that he had questioned

[illegible] Marine Trust Company of Western New York, advised that that office employs two tellers [illegible] tellers on busy days. In addition, there is one [illegible] teller. The tellers' cages are open. The [illegible] all open. Tellers have access to ledger [illegible] clerk in the floor.

He advised that they operate on a one day delay [illegible] checks mailed. [illegible] posted on the day following [illegible], but under the date of the [illegible] are received. He advised that a check received on November [illegible] would be posted on November [illegible], but under the date of November 7. He advised that tellers used teller machines. These machines accumulate totals of cash received and cash paid out. The tellers' strikes at the end of the day are prepared on the teller machine tapes. The teller machines stamp the date, the number of the machine, and the amount on the tape, the deposit ticket, and the receipt simultaneously. Receipts are not given for savings deposits by the tellers but entries are made by the tellers in the savings account passbooks.

He advised that he had no reason to doubt [redacted] because [redacted] had been a customer of the bank for many years. [redacted] owned a house which he rented and used the account to deposit rental checks and expenses on the property. He said that [redacted] claimed that he did not receive the statement and cancelled checks which should have been mailed to him in September. According to the system at the bank, [redacted] should have been mailed statements and his cancelled checks within a few days of the middle of the months of March, June, September and December. [redacted] maintained a regular checking account.

[redacted] advised that the last check drawn against the [redacted] account was posted to the account under the date of November 7, 1957. This meant that the check was received on November 7, 1957, but was physically posted to the ledger account on November 8, 1957, under the date of November

(, [illegible] He said that [redacted] came to the bank on Friday, November 8, 1957, to advise that since he had sold the house for which the account was established he intended to transfer the balance to a savings account. Upon being informed that the balance in the account was $1,[illegible].67, he gave some indication that the balance was not correct. On the following Monday morning, [redacted] again came to the bank with his check stub book and said that his balance appeared to be $800.00 short. [redacted] advised that he either went to the file himself or asked someone to go to the file to obtain the cancelled checks of [redacted] and found that there were no cancelled checks in the file. He advised that when [redacted] came to the bank on Friday, he talked to the Assistant Manager, [redacted] and that when he came to the bank on the following Monday morning he talked to [redacted]

He said that with respect to the $500.00 withdrawal slip cashed January 31, 1958, he pointed out that it was on the Grant - Ferry Office. He said that SAYLES claimed the man who presented it had his passbook which she used to record the withdrawal. She claimed that no one had ever told her that she should call another office of the bank before cashing a check or withdrawal slip on that office.

[redacted] advised that SAYLES claimed that she did not like bank work as her reason for resigning. He said that her current boyfriend is FRED CLIFTON, a student at the University of Buffalo.

[redacted] advised that SAYLES as well as other employees each had a staff account at the main office of the bank to which their salaries were credited.

[redacted] furnished information concerning his personal finances.

[illegible] said that the tellers and other employees were uncertain as to whether possibly WITTENSTEIN had asked for his cancelled checks to look at them in recent days but no one in the bank admitted showing him his cancelled checks. [redacted] himself said that he had not seen his cancelled checks or called for them.

[redacted] said that after the [redacted] incident, he kept thinking about the matter and several weeks later recalled that one day he had observed LUCILLE SAYLES writing a name on a pad of paper. He said that he could not definitely say whether he had dreamed that he had seen her writing this name or that he had actually seen her. He said that he recalled that she was writing the name over and over and he asked her what she was doing. Her reply was that she was practicing forging a name. He said that he believed the name was [redacted] or a similar name. He said it stuck in his mind that the name was Jewish. He said that at the time he thought nothing of the incident because [redacted] had been active in dramatic work at the Jewish Center at Summer and Delaware Avenue.

[illegible] THELMA SAYLES, Teller,
The Marine Trust Company of
Western New York, Elmwood -
Allen Office, Buffalo, New York
[illegible] ACT

[redacted] 1958, [illegible] was [illegible] to her home, [illegible] Buffalo, New York, between [illegible] a.m. and [illegible] a.m. by SAS HARRY J. MCCUTCHEON [illegible] and SAS J. CRAIG [redacted] described her various duties at the bank. She said that she first knew who [redacted] was when he came to the bank and asked for his checks. She said that she had posted checks to his ledger account and to his statement and knew that it was a fairly inactive account. She stated that she recalled a tall, dark Jewish looking woman come into the bank about a month before [redacted] came in to cash a check. She claimed that she did not write any checks on the [redacted] account and did not suspect anyone else in the bank of writing the checks. She alleged that she did not take or destroy the [redacted] checks.

b7C

She said with respect to cashing the $500.00 savings account withdrawal slip on January 31, 1958, that a man came into the bank with a passbook which reflected other withdrawals and deposits. She said that she would never cash a savings withdrawal slip unless the customer had his passbook. She said the passbook reflected about $1,000.00 balance. She advised that she noted that the withdrawal slip was on an account in the Grant - Ferry Office and she asked him if his account was at the Grant - Ferry Office. He said that it was at that office and that she wrote the name Grant - Ferry in red ink because the name that he had written was somewhat illegible. She described the man as being about 50 years of age, 5' 8" in height, wearing a hat and overcoat, and having grey hair. She said that if a passbook showed an adequate balance it would not occur to her to call the other office in which the account was located.

SAYLES steadfastly denied that she had ever taken any of the bank's money.

She said that she has a joint account [illegible] her boyfriend, FRED CLIFTON at the Jefferson Savings and Loan Association, Jefferson and Utica Streets. She said that it has a $1.00 balance.

She advised that she is Secretary - Treasurer of the Community Dramatic Work Shop, which has an account at The Marine Trust Company, Main - High Office. She is co-signer with [redacted] instructor at the University of Buffalo.

She advised that she had a staff account at the Main Office.

She advised that she had a savings account at the Main - High Office of The Marine Trust Company, which was closed.

She advised that she borrowed money at the Seaboard Finance Company on Fillmore Avenue. She advised that the loan was originally $500.00 about two years ago. She said her father co-signed the note with her. She said that she recalled making a substantial payment to the Seaboard Finance Company during the early part of the year because she intended to get married to FRED CLIFTON and wanted to get her obligations paid up. She claimed that she made the payment out of her own funds and that her father gave her some money. She said she did not recall the amount of the money but believed it was about $200.00. She said that she did not recall the amount her father gave her but that it was about $100.00. She advised she has an account at the Victor's Department Store and that the balance there is about $30.00.

She advised that her father is employed as a steel worker at the Symington - Gould Corp., Depew, New York, and has been employed there for 26 years. He makes about $100.00 a week. Her parents have no bank account. They own their own home and pay on a mortgage to the Real Estate Firm Rubin and Green, Brisbane Building, Buffalo, New York. They also pay on a Western Savings Bank on a loan for the improvement of the [illegible] of their home. She said that her father got his teeth fixed last past winter. The loan was renewed at the Seaboard Finance Company for that purpose. She believed the dentist was [redacted] near Jefferson and Hardwood Streets. SAYLES signed a written consent to take a lie detector test and furnished handwriting specimens. SAYLES furnished the following description of herself:

On April 14, 1958, [illegible] CLIFTON, 4[illegible] Laurel Street, Buffalo, New York, voluntarily appeared at the Buffalo Office. He advised that he attends the University of Buffalo and is in his second year there. He said that he and SAYLES plan to marry in June of 1958 but decided to get married the latter part of April of 1958. He advised that after she quit her job at the bank she left home every morning at the regular time to make it appear to her parents that she was still working there. He advised that since leaving her job at the bank she has been morose and that he was of the opinion that she was involved in an irregularity at the bank because of her refusal to talk to him about her former employment at the bank. He said that SAYLES rarely had any appreciable amount of money except on pay day. He was of the opinion that she gave her father $30.00 or [illegible] each pay day and that her father never gave her any money. He said that SAYLES never gave him any money. They exchanged gifts at Christmas time, but other than that she had never supplied him with any funds. He said the only specific instance of where her parents had given her money was on Friday, April 11, 1958, when her father gave her $1.00 and her mother gave her $1.00 for lunch [illegible]. He said that her father ruled her with an iron hand and treated her as if she were a small child. He said that SAYLES [illegible] respect her father, but feared him. LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES, Teller,
The Marine Trust Company of
Western New York, Elmwood -
Allen Office, Buffalo, New York
FEDERAL RESERVE ACT

On April 18, 1958, LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES came to the Buffalo Office accompanied by FREDDIE J. CLIFTON. She was interviewed by SAs HAROLD J. BRUNINGA (A) and EDWARD J. CRAIG (A) between 5:20 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. She furnished the following signed statement:

"Buffalo, NY
April 18, 1958

"I, Lucille T Sayles, make the following statement to Harold J Bruninga and Edward J Craig, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I have been told that I do not have to say anything, that I may consult an attorney, and that anything I say may be used against me in court. I make this statement voluntarily. No threats or promises have been made to me.

"I reside at 11 Harwood Place Buffalo, N.Y. I was employed by the Marine Trust Company from January 1956 to February 6, 1958. For about the last two years I was assigned to the Elmwood - Allen Office. I started doing tellers work in January 1957. Beginning in August or September 1957 and continuing to about November 7, 1957 I drew checks against the checking account of [redacted] I forged [redacted] name to several checks in amounts of $100.00 and $200.00 totaling between $600.00 and $800.00 during that period. I put these checks through my regular tellers work as checks cashed, but took the cash myself. I have been shown a copy of the [redacted] ledger account and have initialed it as being the account referred to above.

b7C

"I recall that [redacted] came to the bank shortly after November 7, 1957. After he came to the

29- 22627- 8

"bank and inquires about his account I removed all the cancelled checks from the file, took them home and destroyed them.

"I have observed a Savings Account Withdrawal slip dated Jan[illegible] 1958, on the Grant & Ferry Office of the Marine Trust Company, payable to "self" for $500.00 and signed by Anthony La Macchia. I made out this withdrawal slip, showed it in my tellers work as cash paid out, but kept the cash myself. I used the money to pay some bills. I knew there was no such account in the name of Anthony La Macchia but used this means to obtain money from the bank.

"This is all the money I took from the bank. I wish to state that I intend to repay the bank for the money I took.

"I have read this statement, consisting of this and three other pages, and it is true.

/s/ Lucille T. Sayles

"Witnesses:
/s/ Harold J. Bruninga, Special Agent, FBI, Buffalo, NY
/s/ Edward J. Craig, Special Agent, F.B.I., Buffalo, NY"

She said that she presently earns $63.00 a week gross at the New York State Unemployment Office, her present employer. She pays $15.00 a week board and room to her father and pays Seaboard Finance Company $20.00 a month. She advised that she had discussed making restitution to the bank with CLIFTON and she intended to pay $50.00 a month in making restitution and more if possible.

She advised that most of the money that she obtained from the bank was used to pay bills. She gave her mother money when she asked for it because her father never gave her mother any funds. Her mother was not aware that she was converting funds of the bank.

On April 2, 1958, [illegible], assistant Vice-President and Personnel Director, Manufacturers and Traders Trust Company, advised SA HAROLD J. BRUNINGA (A) and [illegible] (A) that LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES had submitted an application for employment at Schomann's, Inc. She stated as her reason for leaving The Marine Trust Company that she was still [illegible] that office here. She did not consider the people she worked with as being intelligent. She was turned down because of a poor recommendation from The Marine Trust Company.

On April 2, 1958, Miss [redacted] Buffalo Retail Merchants Credit Association, [illegible] Franklin Street, advised SA (A) HAROLD J. BRUNINGA that the record of LUCILLE SAYLES, 11 Harwood Place, Buffalo, New York, reflected she had an account at Victor's Department Store and at Teller & Muse, [illegible] Court Street. The record of [redacted] and THELMA SAYLES at the same address reflected that he was employed at the Symington - Gould Corp. He was paying the Western Savings Bank on a personal or car loan on December of 195[illegible]. Payments were made as agreed.

b7C

On April 7, 1958, [redacted] Manufacturers and Traders Trust Company, Main Office, advised SA (A) HAROLD J. BRUNINGA the indices of that office failed to reflect an account for LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES.

As reflected by the schedule previously set forth the total amount of the shortage is $1,300.00. No restitution has been made, according to LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES.

On April 21, 1958, Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] advised that he wished to review a report of instant matter before deciding as to prosecution.

HISTORY OF THE SUBJECT

On April 2, 1958, the personnel file of LUCILLE THELMA SAYLES at the Main Office of subject bank reflected that she was initially employed December 27, 1955, and that she resigned February 13, 1958. Her salary when hired was $2,080.00 per year and at the time of her resignation her salary was $2,756.00 per year. It was reflected that her grades when attending the Fashion-Master Vocational High School averaged 93.5. She stood 18th in her class. She was Vice-President of the Junior Class and was Co-Managing Editor of the school newspaper. Her ratings while an
